Re: MUR 6903

Dear Mr. Jordan:

We received the above-referenced complaint on November 18, 2014 and it is my pleasure to respond to the complaint registered by Robert Slider.

Mr. Slider was, for a few years, a business associate of Mr. Lawrence. When Mr. Lawrence was approached by community leaders to consider running for Congress, Mr. Slider attended various meetings with Mr. Lawrence to determine the feasibility of such an effort. Sometime during early April Mr. Lawrence found it necessary to terminate his personal and business relationship with Mr. Slider.

Since then a very disgruntled Mr. Slider has executed continuous malevolent activities toward Mr. Lawrence and the campaign in an effort to harass, insult, embarrass and discredit Mr. Lawrence. This complaint is the latest of those activities, to further harass and an apparent effort to extort money from the campaign and, presumably, Mr. Lawrence.

The campaign did receive the invoices you forwarded to us in support of his complaint. It is correct that neither payment nor correspondence was sent by the campaign to Mr. Slider or Virtual Impact Productions, Inc. regarding these invoices. However, Mr. Slider has misrepresented his relationship to the campaign. He has never been "engaged" by the campaign for any purpose. There are no contracts, letters of engagement or other agreements, written or oral, between Mr. Slider and/or Virtual Impact Productions, Inc. and Henry Lawrence for Congress, LLC and/ or Mr. Lawrence related to his run for Congress or otherwise.

Most of the supporting documentation included in the complaint relates to personal financial transactions of Mr. Lawrence and are, therefore, irrelevant to the campaign, its finances and its required reporting.

Henry Lawrence for Congress, LLC has included each and every campaign contribution and any and all other receipts received by the campaign in its reports to the Federal Election Commission. Additionally, each and every disbursement by the campaign has been included in those reports. The cash balance on each report reflects the cash balances in the campaign's bank accounts as of the various reports' effective dates.

The campaign has, and continues to maintain, the supporting documentation for all transactions and reports.

The complaint by Mr. Slider is baseless and frivolous, used only to serve as a tool to collect for services never received by or agreed to by Henry Lawrence for Congress, LLC or Mr. Lawrence.

Please let us know what other specific information you may require to dispose of this matter. Please feel free to contact me

Yours very truly,

Curtis S. Root
